What is the role of feminism at Cornell? We invite everyone in the Cornell community to join us for dinner and a thought-provoking conversation in an informal setting.

Rose House Cafe

ROSE HOUSE CAFE SERIES

Wednesday, May 2, 2018, 7:00 pm
House Professor’s Apartment
G42 Flies Rose House

Immune “Organoids”: Growing Mini-Lymph Nodes in a Dish

Shiv Shah
Assistant Professor, Bioengineering

In the past, researchers and companies have often studied how cells develop and respond to curvilinear drug candidates by growing them in dishes. These models are often oversimplification and are unrepresentative of what will happen in the human body. Organoids - or mini-organs in a dish - have shown to be more similar to human bodies and garnered momentum in modeling human development and disease, drug screening, and future therapy design. Come hear Dr. Shiv Shah speak about how he is creating immune organoid models to study both antibody production for therapeutic purposes and cancer to create patient-specific treatment plans.

---

4 May. 7-8pm. House Office

Cornell Jazz Voices at Project Eddy Gate

From May 4th to May 6th, the Eddy Gate corridor (the old stone arch next to Cascadilla Hall) will be temporarily transformed from dark and vacant alley to lively outdoor living room, featuring food trucks, live performances, collaborative art installations, street furniture, and much, much more. Join SA Andrew (aps324) and hear the Cornell Jazz Voices perform. More information can be found at: https://www.eddygate.org/

---

Robotics Lab Tour

Interested in how robots are developed and tested? Would you like to learn about engineering project teams on campus? Every year the Cornell University Autonomous Underwater Vehicle (CUAUV) team is a top contender in the International AUVSI Robosub Competition. Join CUAUV for a tour of the experiential learning lab (ELL) where various teams design and construct their projects, and Teagle Pool where you can see the Robosub in action. Contact Anthony Viego (amv64) for more information.

---

2 May. 7-8pm. Prof Blalock Apt G42

Feminism: Food for Thought

What is the role of feminism at Cornell? We invite everyone in the Cornell community to join us for dinner and a thought-provoking conversation in an informal setting.

SALADS - Quinoa and Vegetable Salad – Avocado, Heritage Greens, Grilled Red Onion, Grape Tomatoes, Cilantro, Lime

ENTREES - Peruvian Chicken – Green Sauce, Peruvian Fried Fish – Escabeche, Sweet Potato and Zucchini Locro

STARCH - Crispy Roasted Potatoes

VEGETABLES - Grilled Green Beans, Tomatoes, Red Onions, Grilled Corn on the Cob – Butter, Lime, Chili

DESSERT - Deconstructed Caramel Cheese Cake – Ginger Cookie Crumble

---

Table Talk: Mapping a City

Do you find it difficult to orient yourself in a new city? How do you maneuver and mentally map your ways?

Join GRF Seema (ss3625) for a dinner discussion on how to read a city better through principles of urban design.

---

May Closing. 23 May. 2:00pm

Any resident remaining in Rose House after 2:00pm on Wednesday, May 23, will be charged $40.00 per hour for each hour of occupancy. These charges are NOT prorated. If you are unable to accommodate the 2:00 pm departure time on May 23, you must apply for a late departure extension to Assistant Dean Jarrett Anthony (jea233) by Wednesday, May 9. Please include your name, room number, and reason for the request.

Residents waiting for transportation between 2:00pm and 4:00pm on Wednesday, May 23, may wait in the Rose Common Room.

---

Gardening seniors may stay until 12:00 noon Monday, May 28